HOTEL DESCRIPTION:

The FIS hotel, the biggest hotel-sports complex in the High Tatras, is situated at the altitude of 1,346 metres near the tarn of Štrbské pleso. The unique location makes it a true oasis for athletes looking for top-class training conditions as well as people longing for flawless relaxation and moments of peace in the heart of the Slovak high mountains.

CATEGORY: 3*

HISTORY:

The FIS Nordic World Ski Championships in 1970 were the highlight of sports events held in the area of Štrbské Pleso. On this occasion, the so called Areál snov ("Area of Dreams") and the FIS hotel were built based on a project of Professor Eugen Kramár and Ján Šprlák, leading personality of the Slovak architecture.

LOCATION:

The FIS hotel is built in Štrbské Pleso at the foot of majestic peaks – Solisko and Patria, close to the beginning of Mlynická dolina (valley). It is located a little more than one kilometre away from the railway and bus station of Štrbské Pleso. But if you cover the distance, you will be rewarded with the immediate vicinity of a ski resort (50 m from a piste only) and the venues of all sports events that are organised here. It takes 20 minutes to drive to the FIS hotel from Poprad airport, 2 hours from Krakow airport and 4 hours from the airport in the capital city, Bratislava.
