HOTEL DESCRIPTION:

Grandhotel*, the 4-star jewel in the High Tatras was built in 1904. The Art Nouveau masterpiece in Starý Smokovec has offered top-class services to clients from all around the world including various well-known personalities for more than 110 years and is still known as a symbol of flawless services, luxurious accommodation with beautiful views, delicious culinary specialities and spoiling relaxation of the Grand Spa. Grandhotel* offers spacious and representative conference rooms which are ideal for big events, training purposes, presentations as well as small meetings, family celebrations and weddings that can be truly unforgettable there.

CATEGORY: 4*

HISTORY:

Built in the Art Nouveau style, the Grandhotel opened its doors in 1904 as the first large hotel in the Tatras. The hotel was built in large part due to the efforts of Mr Gustav Hoepfner senior, the then director of the Spiš Credit and Industrial Bank which was the developer of this Art Nouveau work of art.

LOCATION:

The Grandhotel* Starý Smokovec is situated in the centre of Starý Smokovec, the main hub of the High Tatras. It is located about 200 metres from the rail and bus stations, about 30 minutes by car from the airport in Poprad, 2,5 hours from the Krakow airport, and 4 hours from the airport in the capital of Slovakia, Bratislava. The lower station of the funicular going up to Hrebienok (1,236 m above sea level) and the bottom of the ski and sled runs are in close vicinity of the hotel.
